

Today's leaders need agility and confidence to meet the fast-paced and increasingly complex challenges.

- Are your leaders ready for our rapidly changing business landscape?
- Does your succession pool have the depth and breadth of talent needed?

The LeadershipX Program

Based on extensive leadership development experience and doctoral research, LeadershipX state-of-the-art programs can be configured and customized to meet your specific corporate development needs.

Each participant plays our high-fidelity business situation game on a tablet – immersing them in an engaging, competitive and dynamic environment. To improve retention and application of the high-impact leadership lessons learned, each participant receives an individual assessment report based on their situational judgment decisions.

WHICH EXECUTIVE TEAM WILL WIN?

To enhance this experience, we've created interactive learning modules facilitated by expert faculty. Participants learn to challenge themselves, question assumptions, explore perspectives and build leadership confidence as part of their leadership journey. Each area of emphasis has multiple modules to choose from:

Global
Leadership

Change
Management

Business
Acumen

Innovation

Ethics

Professional Development

"... fantastic job tailoring a LeadershipX program to meet the needs of our executive level audience. ...delivery, experience, and insights were exactly what we were looking for and directly hit the learning points we were targeting."

– Financial Services,
Organizational Development VP

Intended for senior management and high potentials, we offer complementary components including: Leaders as Teachers, Business Challenge Teams, Individual Action Plans, Coaching and Reflection.

Expedite Your Leadership Development

LeadershipX executive and experiential talent development programs can prepare your company for tomorrow's opportunities and threats by strengthening today's leadership pipeline!