

A business simulation to prepare Today's Leaders for Tomorrow's Leadership Challenges

Today's leaders need agility and confidence to meet the fast-paced and increasingly complex challenges.

- > Are your leaders ready for our rapidly changing business landscape?
- > Does your succession pool have the depth and breadth of talent needed?

The LeadershipX Program

Based on extensive leadership development experience and doctoral research, LeadershipX state-of-the-art programs can be configured and customized to meet your specific corporate development needs. Participants learn to challenge themselves, question assumptions, explore perspectives and build leadership confidence as part of their leadership journey.

Each participant plays a role during the next-gen, digital Leadership Xperience... a high-fidelity business simulation! During these immersive executive team situations, participants create and execute a multi-year strategy, assess their long-term vs. short-term decision impacts, and explore their leadership strengths as well as development opportunities. This dynamic, "cross-fit" classroom solution combines technology, content and assessment in an immersive cohort experience. Our "learn by doing" approach improves retention of the high-impact leadership lessons, resulting in improved organizational performance.

To enhance the Leadership Xperience business simulation, expert faculty facilitate interactive learning modules – offered in these areas:

Global Leadership

Change Management

Business Acumen

Innovation

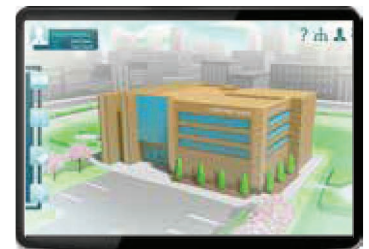

Ethics

Professional Development

WHICH EXECUTIVE TEAM WILL WIN?

"... fantastic job tailoring a LeadershipX program to meet the needs of our executive level audience... delivery, experience, and insights were exactly what we were looking for and directly hit the learning points we were targeting."

– Financial Services, Organizational Development VP
